RYC

The first RYC Winter-Series started out well! Good wind, not too cold and lots of boats sailing very well. The first race saw 12 knots of Easterly wind that swung to the West all day and ended up windless after 4 good races.

Vickie will be heading up the LMSC on December 12th. A very well run event.

The weather reports are for light rain. This is good news for Lake Merritt because that will signal wind! A small front providing wind will make the lake interesting and not a drifter.

El Toro stories and video in archives:

There is a great drone video of the El Toro fleet racing on Clear Lake taken by Chris Twirbutt, a professional drone-camera guy. It can be found on the El Toro web site, Norcalsailing.com and the Scuttlebutt web site. It is very worth watching two or three times!
